SPECIFICATION FOR APPOINTMENT OF A SERVICE PROVIDER TO CONDUCT
TRAINING OF SOCIAL SERVICE PRACTITIONERS ON THE PSYCHO-SOCIAL SUPPORT PROGRAMME, TRAUMA SUPPORT AND GRIEF COUNSELLING

1. BACKGROUND

The Department has a mandate to upskill Social Service Practitioners under their employ as prescribed by the South African Constitution Act 108, of 1996, DPSA Guidelines, PFMA and Public Regulations of 1994. Demand presently placed on the Departmental officials, especially those at service point level responsible to implement best interventions in cases of crisis and trauma.

South African communities experience high levels of crime associated trauma and loss. Ongoing community and domestic violence and family murders means that people have multiple traumatic experiences, and this is especially true for people in resource-poor communities with limited access to support services (McLea & Mayers, 2017). Loss, grief and trauma are experienced at an individual and a communal level and social service professionals in the South African context must be able to respond at both simultaneously. The experience of multiple traumas and losses and the inability to process these systematically often result in complicated grief, Drenth, Herbst and Strydom (2013) and the Covid-19 pandemic and its devastating effect on human life created an environment where it became difficult to process loss and grief within the fluidity of social existence.

The training aims to provide an opportunity for the targeted audience to access capacity development programmes that would equip social workers and community development practitioners with skills and knowledge to address the psychosocial needs of families and communities in distress as a result of Covid-19 and beyond.
